VOLUME XV

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY NOV. 29, 1911.

NUMBER 4

MR. S. R. WALKER.

He Died Sunday Morning at 2 O'clock Surrounded by his Wife and Children.

PROMINENT FARMER AND TRADER.

Last Sunday morning at 2 o'clock Mr. S. R. Walker, familiarly called Brud, died at his late residence, Nell, this county. He was very prominent in the affairs of the South-western portion of Adair and his death will be keenly felt throughout that section of the county.

Mr. Walker was an active merchant, trader and tobacco dealer and was known to be a very accommodating gentleman, one who was ever ready to help a friend in need, hence the poorer class of people will sadly miss him. When quite a young man the deceased made a profession of his faith in Christ, united with the Baptist Church and lived a consistent member until the end came. He was a son of the late Wm. L. Walker, who was extensively known throughout this county. The deceased married early in life and was the father of eight children, four of whom are married. Besides his wife and children, he leaves two brothers and several sisters, Mrs. J. O. Russell, of this place, being one of the number.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock, a large circle of relatives and friends being present. The interment was in the family burying ground.

The following persons of this place, all relatives, attended the last sad rites: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, and perhaps others.

The News extends its sympathy to the surviving members of the family, admonishing them to take their troubles to God for He alone can give comfort in such a trying hour.

Mr. W. A. Coffey reports that himself, Dr. R. I. Blakeman, of Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. E. B. Barger and R. A. Myers, of Monticello, had delightful sport hunting birds, in the neighborhood of Esto, Russell county, two days of last week. They killed and bagged one hundred and twenty-five. While out they spent one night at Jamestown, stopping at the Holt Hotel. They found the genial proprietor, Mr. A. H. Holt, in his usual happy mood, making their stay at his house of entertainment most delightful. Cozy rooms were furnished, and most refreshing edibles were set before them.

A Card from Hale's Store.

A good crowd attended the sale of C. C. Hale, Saturday. Every thing went reasonably. McKinley and Hale bought the property, and will begin a poultry business at once. A little booze was seen in the afternoon, and things went lively.

Mr. R. F. Rowe is moving his household goods from Amandaville to Columbia. Himself and wife hope to be in their new home, near the Graded school building, by the last of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe are excellent people, and we are glad they are to become residents of this place.

A daughter of Mr. West Bault, whose home was in the White Oak section, died one day last week, a victim of consumption.

Thanksgiving Services.

The Thanksgiving services will be held this year at the Baptist church. The sermon according to our usual custom will be delivered by the last man on the field which is Rev. J. W. Weldon, of the Methodist church. The pastor's request that there be a more careful observance of the day, and a more general recognition of our obligation to meet at the place appointed for worship at the appointed hour—10:30 a. m. by not only closing our places of business, but by also being present at the services. It is respectfully suggested that you all attend the services, then fill any social or other engagements that may claim your attention.

To be Married This Afternoon.

Mr. John T. Banks, a prominent young farmer, and Miss Lura E. McFarland, daughter of Mr. Solomon McFarland, will be married this (Wednesday) afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Methodist church or parsonage, Cane Valley. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. A. Beck, pastor of the intended bride.

The couple will reside near Mt. Pleasant, the intended groom owing a farm in that neighborhood.

The couple will receive a number of useful presents.

The case of Eliza Vaughan against Pearl Hindman, school superintendent, from Adair county, was affirmed. The school house in which Miss Vaughan was teaching was burned. She offered to proceed with the school if the trustees would rent another house. The trustees failed to act, and Miss Vaughan sued to recover the amount due her for the full school term. The court says she has no cause of action against the county superintendent, and if she has any cause of action at all it is against the Division Board of Trustees for breach of contract. Gordon Montgomery represented Miss Hindman; Rollin Hurt and Jas. Garnett represented Miss Vaughan.

The Irish potato crop in Adair county was almost a failure, yet there have been plenty of home grown on the market to supply the demand since digging time. A few farmers grew some very fine ones, others failed entirely, while many dug but few, and they were quite small, but for table use they answered the purpose, and the people have not been without this very popular vegetable.

Thursday will be Thanksgiving, and we take it that the business houses of Columbia will close at 11 a. m., and the proprietors and employees will attend church, as has been the custom for years past. Services will be at the Baptist church, the sermon to be preached by Rev. J. W. Weldon, of the Methodist church.

The changeable weather conditions of the past week or more has given many local people severe colds, but they have been lucky to get off that easy. What we want is continued warm or cold weather one—we don't care which, so long as it is consistent. The wise guys of the weather bureau will please make a note of this and come across with the right thing or get off the job.

Tobacco Growers.

The Bourbon News has the following item which will be of interest to tobacco growers:

New life has been imparted to the tobacco growers in Kentucky since the election of James B. McCreary for Governor. The growers have the promise of the Governor elect that he will help them right the wrongs done them. In a letter to the tobacco growers, Mr. McCreary promised to aid the tobacco growers in every way to pass such legislation as will be necessary to protect them and enforce the law against the Tobacco Trust. With this promise direct from the Governor there will be several measures drawn up and submitted to him before the Legislature meets with the request that he submit the one he thinks best to the Legislature along with his message; unless something is done to aid the grower the tobacco crop will be greatly reduced in acreage in this State next season. As Mr. McCreary has stated since his election that he would endeavor to carry out his campaign pledges, much is expected from him in assistance from the tobacco growers.

He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by Paul Drug Co.

We have made some inquiry in regard to the tobacco crop of this county, it being all housed and a few farmers have delivered to buyers. Generally speaking, the crop is said to be the best for a number of years past, especially the dark tobacco, and the Burly is also said to be of a fine quality.

Mr. Josh Butler and his son, Golan, set 3½ acres in dark tobacco the 13th day of May. On the 14th day of October it was stripped and sold, the crop bringing $331.55. This is the quickest handling of a tobacco crop we have recorded.

A Child Outraged.

Excitement was high in the Elroy section of this county all last week.

William Reece, who is a deputy sheriff of Metcalfe county, upon going home noticed T. S. Jeans upon his farm, carrying a gun. He asked his wife and daughter how long he had been prowling about the place, and if they knew what he was after. Mr. Reece's daughter is only thirteen years old, and she informed her father that James had mistreated her the day before, and told her if she mentioned it to any one he would kill her. Mr. Reece, greatly excited, notified the neighborhood of what had happened, and a large party of men gathered and started in search of the perpetrator of the crime. Up to Thursday he had not been apprehended, and it is believed that he has left the country. James is a married man, his wife being a sister of Mr. Reece, the father of the child who was outraged.
